

Advanced Learners – Tips

A child may be further ahead in development than expected.
Do you know the child's developmental levels?

Problem behavior can be an indicator of advanced development unseen. Can you use these glasses to look at development?

Providing challenge often means differentiation to the age norm. Do you dare to differentiate?

Intense feelings, emotions, and thoughts.
Does the child feel safe enough to share them with you?

Involving parents from the beginning may promote a positive relationship. Do you and the parents already connect?

Make room for autonomy.
Which choices do you allow the child to make?

A critical attitude to understand the world.
Do you allow the child to interact with it?

